Re: Tornese v Click

Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Click Magazine was served on Saturday with a summons in which Lucille Tornese, Mr. Marcantonio's secretary, is the plaintiff.

In serving this summons, we were told by Mr. Chellis, the editor, that their defense would probably be, amongst others, that the work you claim credit for were articles written by governmental agencies, which articles are known as "handouts".

The defendant has six days to answer. After we receive the answer, we would like to arrange for you to sign an affidavit so that we may make an application for summary judgment without the necessity of a trial.

Yours very truly,

PINTO & MARCANTONIO
